What is ESMAR?

ESMAR is the Higher School for Excellence in Music which offers higher education in music.

ESMAR is a private higher education institution for music, where the highest stage of a musical career is studied. It is the musical equivalent of a university education.

Higher education in music

Why was ESMAR founded?

ESMAR represents a new model of music education, based on excellence, for our student body who get comprehensive training from ESMAR and the necessary skills to work successfully in the music profession today, in its different fields (performance, education, management and research).

ESMAR was founded in Valencia, which has an outstanding track record in the field of music. Valencia exports talent all over the world, music is experienced with unusual intensity and passion. ESMAR identifies with Valencian history and musical tradition.

Cultural and artistic activity has a significant impact on today's knowledge societies. We represent more than 3% of national GDP. We are clearly a strategic sector to contribute to the well-being and progress of our country. We want to contribute to this.

Excellence
for the student body

What does ESMAR offer?

ESMAR is a genuine and very attractive alternative for students who want a specialised and high-level musical education.

To achieve this we focus our efforts on:

1. Having the best teaching staff, of international standing.
2. Highly demanding curricula and syllabuses in line with students' needs.
3. Experiences in real professional environments.
4. Personalised and direct assistance for each student with specific guidance and support services.
5. Links with the music job market.
