Overview

The John Wesley Theological College was established in BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, as a higher educational institution in 1991. The College is managed by the Hungarian Evangelical Fellowship (HEF or MET: Magyarországi Evangéliumi Testvérközösség in Hungarian). It was named after John Wesley, an English cleric, theologian and evangelist who was a leader of a revival movement within the Church of England known as Methodism.

Our mission statement represents the original mission of John Wesley; “Do all the good you can, by all the means you can, in all the ways you can, in all the places you can, at all the times you can, to all the people you can, as long as ever you can.”

Currently Wesley College provides a unique, friendly environment for students and professors love to be grounded in the daily reality of social work, pedagogy and environmental protection, close the citizens and communities.

Secular education

The Mission Statement of Wesley does not expect or require alignment of faith from students or professors in any of its departments including the theological department.

Academic programmes

Wesley provides academic programmes in bachelor, master and post-gradual levels in the following topics:

Campus Chapel

At the John Wesley College we have a Student Chaplaincy with a cosy little chapel, which is open for all of the students and professors. A pastor of the Hungarian Evangelical Fellowship is responsible for the spiritual life of the institution - as for instance the prayers, meetings for Bible study, excursions, but also for individual and personal meetings and pastoral conversations. The vivid, ecumenical, or even interconfessional community is open to everyone.

Mentor Programme for international students

The Wesley's Mentor Programme aims to support our international students' integration into the academic and cultural life of the Campus. Mentors are English speaking students who provide administrative guidance and academic coaching for international students. The mentoring staff organizes regularly events for the international students facilitating their integration to the Campus life and getting familiar with Hungarian culture and tradition.

Campus accommodation

Wesley College has its own campus dormitory with cheap accommodation possibilities for international students.

Scholarship Programmes

Stipendium Hungaricum Scholarship Programme

The Stipendium Hungaricum scholarship Programme aims to promote cultural understanding, economic and political relations between Hungary and other countries. The scholarship entitles students for full time studies in Hungarian higher education institutions that are part of the programme.
