Application process and course offer	Courses for exchange students and other general information on course selections at the Faculty of Science and Engineering, How to select courses, how to prepare your timetable and direction to our online Application process is a provided here: https://liu.se/en/article/application-procedure-faculty-of-science-and-engineering
Bachelor level students	Since there are more bachelor level courses available for exchange students during the autumn, we strongly recommend students on bachelor level to spend an autumn semester at LiU. Students in their third year, who stay for a full academic year (autumn + spring) could, by taking some special bachelor level courses during the autumn, become eligible for some of the master level courses offered during the spring. Ask about this opportunity in the application if interested!
Master level students	Students who want to apply for courses offered on master level (courses from course catalogue for exchange students or Master's programme courses) at the Faculty of Science and Engineering, benefit from spending an autumn semester at LiU, or stay for a full academic year (autumn+spring), in order to benefit from the progression of courses. Master level, i.e. advanced level, courses available in the course catalogue for exchange students generally require a completed bachelor's degree and/or three years university studies within the subject area. Master's programme courses taught in English (Courses offered within master's programmes, might be available for exchange students fulfilling the entrance requirements of the master's programmes as well as the prerequisites listed in the syllabus for each course. Note, however, that some of the master programme courses are offered exclusively for Swedish programme students and are NOT open for exchange students, as noted in the course syllabus.
No "Add and drop" periods	At the Faculty of Science and Engineering at Linköping University, "add and drop" periods do not exist. In the on-line application nominated exchanges student should select courses for both study periods of the (first) exchange semester. Already at this stage it is important to verify that the prerequisites of the selected course are met, and also, that the credits will be possible to transfer to the home university. The selection of courses is checked by our faculty expert regarding both prerequisites and scheduling and must be all cleared before the student will be admitted. Please note that only in special cases will changing courses after arrival be approved. Exchange students accepted for a whole academic year will select courses for their second semester while being at LiU; in October.
Which departments/schools are open for exchange students (courses)	All departments at the Faculty of Science and Engineering are open for exchange students at undergraduate and graduate levels if they fulfil the requirements.
