INTERNATIONAL WELCOME POINT (IWP)

The International Welcome Point (IWP), as part of the International Relations Office, has been created to provide master and doctorate students, professors, researches and administrative staff from foreign institutions with the information, support and hosting services they need before, during and after their stay at University of Valladolid.

The IWP operates as a centralized point of contact for the entire university community and aims to create the best atmosphere so that these collectives can develop their work in the most satisfactory manner and can reach an acceptable level of integration at our University.

The IWP offers a personalized attention, being an integral service that facilitates support and information about any issue of interest to those visitors coming to our university from abroad: accommodation, migration procedures, family support, transportation, school attendance and nursery, health insurance, student card, internet access, languages, sports, culture, parking, certificates and so on. This assistance is provided at the Foreign Students Section of our International Relations Office.
